WINDOW FACTORY & SHOWROOM
Since 1978

Family Experience

In 1936 William Bouchery introduced the Bouchery family to the window industry. In the mid-fifties, his son, James Bouchery took over the business and in 1978, founded a new company under its present name of Vinyl-Lite Window Factory.

Today, James Bouchery is serving as chairman, with his two sons, Michael and Wayne, running the day to day operations. For more than 60 years, the Bouchery family has been dedicated in one form or another, to the window and patio door industry.

Expertise Handed Down Through Generations

In dealing with Vinyl-Lite, you will find you're dealing with a family, and those same principles and values which are prevalent in every strong family unit. There is an atmosphere of unity and cooperation, which resonates to every single factory employee. It is a factor often overlooked, but we never underestimate its value in elevating the quality of products produced at Vinyl-Lite Window Factory.

Peace of mind is a priceless commodity these days and the security experienced with Vinyl-Lite will enable you to enjoy the wisdom of your decision in choosing Vinyl-Lite for many years to come.

In the window business since the 1930's

Let There Be "Lite"

At Vinyl-Lite Window Factory, we fully appreciate and understand the importance of windows to any structure, which is why we consistently strive to provide the marketplace with the best possible window and patio door products at the most reasonable prices.

At Vinyl-Lite we were green before we even knew what the word meant! We have always recycled our materials, and do our best to use products and parts from recycled material as well. We also try to partner with companies that are "going green" because we know the importance of doing everything we can to slow down global warming. Our ENERGY STAR rated windows are energy efficient and help to reduce your carbon footprint by reducing energy consumption.

PERSONALIZED ATTENTION

One difference is that for homeowners, putting in new windows is much more personal. Their home after all, is a sanctuary, where they find safety, warmth and comfort. To have an outsider enter that domain can be unsettling.

So although cost-effectiveness is important, it is probably a homeowners greatest concern, to have their contractors do as clean a job in accordance with all of their specific requirements, as quickly as possible, and to leave the property exactly the same way they found it, with much better windows of course.

Commercial

Commercial property owners look for the highest degree of professionalism and expertise. They want contractors or companies who are reputable and capable of handling large volumes of work with smooth efficiency, while also providing the best product within their budget. Commercial owners have to be aware of their tenants needs, city requirements, and possible future affiliations with other people and/or businesses.

The most important element for all of our customers is trust. Trust in getting what they are promised. Trust in being quoted a fair and accurate price and trust hiring people who are extremely well established in this business and this area.
